

JUNIOR FELLOW WORKSHOP OF THE KFG

Anti-Westernism of Knowledge Production in Russian Social Science during Russia's War against Ukraine

ORGANIZED BY DR. IVAN KISLENKO

Wednesday, 13 November

10.00–10.30

Welcome and Round of Introductions

10.30–12.30

Academic Sanctions and Abuse of Academic Freedom in Russia

Caroline von Gall (Frankfurt)

Dmitry Dubrovsky (Prague)

Margarita Zavadskaya (Helsinki)

12.30–13.15 — LUNCH BREAK

13.15–15.15

Historical Prerequisites for Scientific Anti-Westernism: Soviet and Post-Soviet Contexts

Olessia Kirtchik (Nantes)

Ivan Kislenko (Belgorod)

Alexander Dmitriev (Prague)

15.15–15.45 — COFFEE BREAK

15.45–17.15

Anti-Western Tendencies in Russian Social Sciences
(online session)

Katerina Guba and Artur Pecherskikh (St. Petersburg)

Mikhail Sokolov (Madison)

18.00

Keynote Lecture

Alexander Libman (Berlin):
Social Sciences in Russia before the War: Integration, Isolation, Political Impact

Thursday, 14 November

10.00–11.00

Keynote Lecture

Theodore Gerber (Madison):
Three Wars and the Practice of Social Science: Ethical, Scientific, and Practical Aspects of Collaboration and Cancellation in a Troubled World

11.00–11.30 — COFFEE BREAK

11.30–13.00

The Role of Expert Community in Marginalization of Subaltern Topics

Guzel Yusupova (Berlin)

Ivan Kislenko (Belgorod)

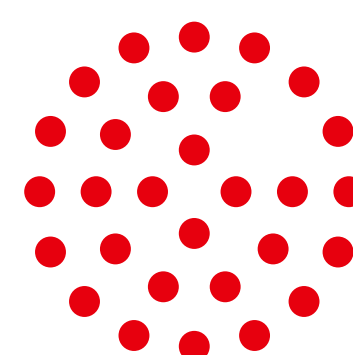

13.00–13.45 — LUNCH BREAK

13.45–14:30

Roundtable

The Future of Russian (Social) Science: Between Anti-Westernism and Possible Normalization?

Concluding Remarks

Kolleg-
Forschungsgruppe
Universalism and Particularism in European Contemporary History

 SEIDLVILLA, MAX-GORBACH-SAAL, NICOLAIPLATZ 1B, 80802 MÜNCHEN

To participate, please register via email: kfg20@lrz.uni-muenchen.de

Funded by

DFG

Deutsche
Forschungsgemeinschaft
German Research Foundation